4. About APUS and role of APUS Assembly

   Pyne states that APUS is the Association of Part-time Undergraduate Students of the University of Toronto, Local 97 of the Canadian Federation of Students. He states that we are a part-time student union with a tri-campus mandate. He states that the definition of part-time at St George is 2.5 credits or less. He states that our mandate includes services, events and campaigns. Our services include the health and dental plan, free tax clinics, and scholarships and bursaries. He states that for over 50 years, since 1968, we have been fighting for part-time students and our rights, including evening classes and evening hours for services.

   Pyne states that APUS is unique in that we have this space, the Assembly, that is not the Board of Directors. He states that a lot of important things like bylaws and budget also come to the Assembly. He states that all part-time students are only one form away from a general member to the Assembly and that’s accessible and great. He states that the Assembly has a lot of power.
Discussion on Cuts to Post-Secondary Education

Kearns speaks about the recent cuts to post-secondary education. She states that cuts to OSAP will mean less grants and more loans and the elimination of 6 month grace period following graduation. She states that there will also be cuts to ancillary fees. The University has been instructed to classify some fees as essential and others as non-essential. The non-essential fees would be opt-in in practice, opt-out in name. Our APUS fees may be non-essential but our health and dental will be essential. Athletics fees will be essential but the food bank, for example, will be non-essential. Many student services such as First Nations House and the food bank are being threatened. A lot of groups and organizations on campus that are funded through students are being threatened as well. We offer bursary programs and those may be non-essential and at this point we are not sure what we are going to be able to do next year.

Based on feedback from the Board and the membership, we had an OVPS (Office of the Vice-Provost Students) meeting and we told them that they should just say no to the cuts. We have now started our Tell Them No campaign. Students and student groups can sign on to the Open Letter that we have written and are promoting. There is a QR code that takes you directly to the Open Letter.

Sanmugaratnam asks when the cuts will be taking place. Kearns states that they will come into effect in September 2019 for the 2019-2020 academic year.

Kearns states that we also have a We the Students campaign petition from CFS-Ontario folks can sign. On Wednesday March 20 at 12pm there will be a student walkout across the province. We are currently planning what the walkout on the St George campus will look like. It may include a rally. We are still trying to fight the cuts and will continue to.

Froom states that with combination of so-called cuts to tuition combined with the cuts to OSAP means that low-income students will lose out and students from wealthy families will win. She states that it is also worth noting that U of T is also facing some financial hardships next year including to their budget, which could lead to hiring freezes, larger classes, loss of student services, less faculty hiring. Froom states that to add to the bad news, it will also be the case that students going into second-entry programs will no longer be eligible for more than 50% grants, and the rest will be 50% loans. She states that this will lead to more debt for marginalized students. This has not yet come into effect but we are anticipating it to be passed in April.

Kashyap states that campus radio stations are approaching the government directly to make their fees mandatory.

Cullen says that all the cuts are very unfair to students.

Froom states that we have managed to get the province to change things in our favour in the past. She states that it’s not impossible and it’s worth a shot. She cites the campaign around flat fees for part-time students as an example. She states that it will be hard but we will fight the cuts.
6. APUS Operating Budget 2018-2019

MOTION  Moved: Froom  Seconded: Kearns

Be it resolved that the APUS Operating Budget 2018-2019 as approved by the APUS Board of Directors be adopted as presented.

DISCUSSION

Froom states that the Operating Budget was sent out in advance in the Assembly package. She states that the Preliminary Budget was approved in August by the Board and sent to the Assembly. She states that the Operating Budget was approved by Board in November and is now coming to the Assembly for confirmation. She highlights what has changed since the Preliminary Budget to the Operating Budget. She states that we had slightly higher revenue in the summer. She notes we tend to conservatively estimate our fees. She states that OPIRG and CFS-O fees are straight in and out and do not count towards our operating revenue. She states that we spent more on scholarships and bursaries with our extra revenue, and we also increased our campaigns and special projects budget lines. She states that our salaries and wages went up a small amount due to a new collective agreement. Our fiscal year ends on April 30 and we will bring a Revised Operating Budget back for approval then.

Vote carries.

7. APUS Bylaw Amendments

MOTION  Moved: Froom  Seconded: Pyne

Be it resolved that the APUS bylaws as approved by the Board of Directors on December 10, 2018 be adopted as presented.

DISCUSSION

Froom states that a Bylaw Committee of our Board that was struck to clean up our bylaws, bring them in line with current practices, and suggest improvements. The Bylaw amendments have been approved by the Board, are now being presented to the Assembly, and then they will be sent to the membership at the AGM. They are legally in place right now as they have been approved by the Board. Froom highlights each of the Bylaw amendments. Amendment 1 is to bring our fee in line with changes to U of T ancillary fees for students over 65. Amendment 2 and 3 are renumbering. Amendment 4 speaks to our Board of Directors and ex-officio members. Amendment 5 is replacing the word shall with may to bring things in line with current practice. Amendment 6, 7, and 8 are all dealing with titles to ex-officio directors. They still have seats on the Board and speaking rights so this does not make a substantive change to our Board composition. Amendment 9 allows our former student information clerks to serve on the Assembly and the Board. Amendment 10 is to correct a typo. Amendment 11 and 12 are re-numbering. Amendment 13 has to do with the timing of the Operating Budget so that we will be presenting a budget with a more clear idea of our revenues in February rather than November. Amendment 14 is another typo. Amendment 15 and 16 was in essence a typo that spoke to Executive Committee rather than the Board.

Pyne states that he is in favour of the bylaw amendments.
Coggon asks where members can find the Bylaws. Campisi states that the Bylaws are on our website, and the amendments are available on our website, in the AGM package and in hard copy in both offices.

Vote carries.

states that he attended all of the COSS meetings, including the budget vote, and the KPE, Hart House and Student Life presentations. He states that he has done some class talks which he will continue doing.

Coggon states that she has been helping to organize the student-led sexual violence policy consultations and they have been going well. We have organized three consultations, and there is one coming up at UTSC. She states that we are getting good feedback and are putting together a report that will go to the administration. We hope this report will inform their own review of the Policy. She states that she has been facilitating donation requests.
